Response Rate 38/112 (33.93%)

- N/a
- The amount of work was very manageable without being too easy or hard and was good practice for what was to come on the exams.
- More practice available for test or more quiz to help with exams
- Our weekly assignments are a quiz which doesn't take me too long, and then I review my notes weekly. When it comes to a midterm week I spend more than 2 hours on the course but besides that the workload is a manageable but sufficient amount.
- sometimes it could get confusing
- My teacher did not provide individual feedback on my assignments or assessments, which I think could have been helpful. He posted answer keys to most of our work, but it was not specific to my personal work.
- I believe the notes could have been a little easier to understand and also some more practice while taking them instead of a bunch of ideas around the subject matter.
- There was not a ton of room for feedback on assignments or tests, but in a large lecture style class, expecting feedback is impractical. This course was not very challenging and did not stimulate critical thinking for me, but I am also a biology major so I was more focused on my STEM classes. I am glad that the workload outside of class was not very heavy--just occasional worksheets and quizzes that helped with comprehension but didn't create stress. I would keep this structure, because they also provide a way to raise your grade in an exam-dominated course.
- N/A
- The instructor did not offer specific feedback on assignments/exams but he always encouraged meeting in office hours.
- N/A
- After the first exam (this is being written just after the second exam), I only came class twice, and both times I left early. I find it hard to pay attention when half or more of each class starts with a 'recap' of the previous class. I understand students learn at different paces, and if the class is able to keep pace with the plan, then that extra time has to be filled either with recaps or more practice, but I personally am not able to sit through 40 minutes of the thing I already learned in the previous class.
- There were times where it felt as the lecture was just simply talking off of slides. And the engagement was difficult at times due to class being at an awkward and easily skippable time so there were just not many students to help engage and keep class interesting.
- I personally never had to schedule a meeting.
- Don't simply read your notes in class to "teach." Actively engage the class and explain concepts, not just writing what is on your notes on the board and reading them aloud as you write them. At that point, going to class is just as helpful as reading the notes outside of class.
- I never reached out for office hours or anything similar. For quizzes, there is a section where you can leave any questions you may have, and he always answered them really well.
- He released our answer sheet back and the test with the answers, but I would've liked to receive my actual test back.
- n/a
- I responded a two for feedback. We immediately got feedback for our homework quizzes and received an answer key for our worksheets. I guess I would have enjoyed some personalized feedback? I know there are a lot of people in this course, and it is extremely hard to manage, but I typically benefit from hearing what exactly I did wrong, so I know how to do better for an upcoming exam. I also answered neutral for thinking critically. I have certainly considered economics more now, but I do not necessarily see myself viewing it in a more complex light, though I have applied my knowledge to other facets of my education.
- n/a
- 3 because question was not applicable to me
- N/A
- Our grade relies too heavily on exams, I wish there were a few more assignments or maybe even real world projects so that I could apply what I learned and improve my grade.
- I never needed to attend office hours. Everything is handwritten and the notes are already uploaded so I felt more of a desire to follow the copied notes and write those down rather than pay close attention to the professor who is also copying the notes word for word on the board. I think I would have stayed more engaged if only some notes were written and uploaded and then filling in the rest based on what is written down on the board during class.
- Did not score 3 or under on any.
- Did not respond with 3 or below
- N/A
- Sometimes I just feel like our attention span is not that long to do notes and talk the whole class, maybe try to get the class involved.
- Did not respond with 3 or below.
- I think it would be nice to get feedback on exams, whether it is a posted answer key with solutions or a review of heavily missed questions.
- I did not put a 3 or lower for any of the topics.
- -----
- I never needed the office hours, so I just have no opinion on them, I'm sure availability outside of class is perfectly fine.
- I just didn't feel like I needed to study more than 3 or 4 hours a week for this class
- N/A
- the content matter was always thoroughly explained by the lessons would get muddy here and there and something would be unclear
- N/A
- i did not put below three on any question

- Matt Eaton is an amazing teacher. He made everything very clear and the review materials he provided were awesome. I loved this class and learned a lot.
- Matt is probably the best prof I've had here so far. Keep up the great work. Tha goat.
- The instructor was very clear about what the course would require us to know and did a good job at delivering the information to us.
- I liked how he posts the class notes and modules after every class so if you miss something you can go back or if you are absent that day you will not fall behind, and the notes have examples as well which helped me study for exams.
- The professor gave us really good notes and explained each concept very well. He made it very easy to learn and it made me enjoy this class a lot.
- Lecture notes being posted is helpful.
- I have not gone to office hours, but I have heard from classmates it was easy to schedule office hours and he was very helpful.
- I had to withdraw from ECON the first time taking this class with a different teacher. Professor Eaton made this class manageable and exciting. I felt that I had all my questions answered during lectures instead of leaving every class confused. There were many resources given to fully succeed and engagement in the class and in class was strongly encouraged.
- I think we were taught well
- I think Matt is really good at making the concepts we need to know exceptionally clear. There was no confusion about was/ was not important.
- My teacher outlined the purpose and expectations of the class very well. He made it clear what to expect on assessments and all of our assignments/quizzes prepared us for the exams.
- I gave the course a high score because it was well-structured, with clear learning objectives that made it easy to follow. The instructional practices, including real-world examples and interactive discussions, helped me better understand complex concepts. Additionally, the exams aligned closely with what was taught in class, which made them feel fair.
- The professor was very understanding and helpful, he communicated very clearly and was accepting of reality and students time.
- Great teacher
- Assignments and practice sets were great helps in preparing for the exam. There was no "busy work" where I felt like I was doing something for no reason. All assignments were helpful and had purpose.
- Matt clearly explained all of the concepts in the class. I really appreciate him uploading the notes onto Canvas. If you can't come for class, you could easily find the lecture layout, almost word for word, in the notes. This class was very easy to follow along, and it was interesting as well.
- He always communicated his office hours, and always made himself available before and after class.
- Mr. Eaton did a great job explaining material, making notes available, and giving us time to work through problems on our own/talk to our peers, so it was not constant lecture for over an hour. The course was straightforward and did not create any stress for me.
- He was a very good, available teacher.
- I enjoyed his teaching style and the posting of all notes. This helped me know exactly what would be on all exams so I could study effectively.
- I loved how this course built ideas off of each other and taught everything in a way that made you understand the connections. This class definitely improved my analytical skills, and Matt Eaton did a great job of encouraging us to think critically while still helping us through everything and guiding us as a professor should.
- The outline of the course and materials were clearly communicated and the course was made enjoyable.
- This course is well designed, I felt that every assignment was very useful and helped me for the exams. The lectures can be a bit boring but I think that's with any hour and 15 min class. He makes it so you can get lots of "free" points for submitting things which is very helpful.
- Everything that was expected of us was very clear and simply put. We show up to class, take notes, and then do practice on worksheets and quizzes. He is a very approachable guy and I have no complaints about the course.
- The exams were very reflected from what we learn in lecture which was very nice.
- N/A
- The assignments, quizzes, and the exam study guide are all extremely good ways of practicing and testing your knowledge, and unlike some classes that I've had, are fully relevant to the exam.
- The lectures were very easy to understand and a lot of examples were provided to help practice concepts.
- Mr. Eaton is the best professor ever
- I enjoy the way he taught the class. The course materials for review and practice helped me immensely on the exams. There was not an excessive amount of work but more than enough to make sure you understand the material.
- The worksheets and practice given to us helped understand and apply a lot of the concepts and skills taught to us in class. Also having the correct answers posted so we could get instant feedback on what we got wrong was helpful in learning the content.
- The learning objectives and what I was taught were very clear and well presented.
- Matt is very good at grabbing student's attention. He does a good job of balancing cracking jokes and relating the examples to college students, but knowing when it's time to get more serious about economics. The class average on exams is always high, and I believe this is partially because he makes students clearly understand the topic and because he is generally liked in the class.
- Matt is a great professor! He explains everything clearly and keeps students engaged, and it is obvious how much he knows about economics.
- Matt is a great teacher. He can clearly communicate the necessary material and gets directly to the point. Class time is not wasted and we learn all of the material necessary. He is openly available for help inside and outside of class and the class is very open to asking questions at any point. He is an excellent teacher and I wish all my teachers could communicate as clearly as him.
- Expectations were clearly communicated and the lectures were very helpful. If we needed anything he was always fast to respond to emails.
- I rated this course highly because the instructor created an engaging and supportive learning environment with clear expectations and well-organized materials. The combination of interactive activities, meaningful assignments, and helpful feedback made the course both enjoyable and effective for my learning.
- I thought that this course enabled me to do my best if I completed worksheets and other out of class assignments. Also by showing up to class I was able to gain a good base of understanding for whatever we were learning.
- He did a great job the whole semester everything was clear and the lectures were good.
- He has always been so helpful and taken the extra time to make sure everyone is clear on the instructions and the material. This course has definitely challenged me, however he has made it as smooth as possible.
- My Professor was very available relating to office hours, discussions, and opportunities for extra help.

- Overall, this course was extremely well structured. As someone who has taken economics before and has been confused most of the time, I have never understood economics quite as thoroughly as I do now. The course structuring allows for one to fully comprehend the topics discussed to allow for high performance on the exams. The worksheets, quizzes, and lectures are all helpful and are necessary to do well in the course. The exam practice questions are also very helpful and ensured that I would do well on the exam. The amount of information shared each class is also extremely manageable and allows for categorization of the varying topics.
- Mr Matt Eaton was helpful in every way possible. I struggled in the beginning of the semester with personal things and reached out to him for help with coursework. He went out of his way to not only teach the material but also ways to retain it and study better.
- Wrote out concepts and notes daily which is beneficial to understanding.
- From the first day Eaton described the layout of his class for the semester. Throughout the rest of the semester he followed that plan. Everything in this class was very organized. There never were any random assignments that popped up, every assignment we had was expected and we always had ample time to complete everything. The assignments were actually helpful and relevant to the exams, and Eaton would upload the correct answers to the worksheets, which was very helpful.
- The quizzes and worksheets supported my learning and directly helped on the exams.
- I enjoyed the fact that I know exactly what was expected of me to do and know. I was told what I needed to do on assignments and was given plenty of time to do them.
- I genuinely just would the structure of Matt's class very effective. I found myself genuinely paying attention and understanding his teaching. He frequently used examples, and showed multiple ways to do a problem. Matt uses a lot of practice problem assignments that are applicable and look similar to the test. This is very helpful when it comes to studying for the test.
- I enjoyed the easy to understand way that the course is structured; as someone who needs a lot of practice, homework and worksheets did a lot of good for me in this course. I think along with the provided course notes, it made studying/catching up in class quite easy.
- Complicated topics were explained clearly and in more simple and easy to understand terms
- The instructor was humorous and I enjoyed how he explained tough concepts and tried to make it relatable.
- The goals and outcomes of this class were shared clearly. I believe that the worksheets and materials given to apply what has been learned was helpful.
- Teacher does job well
- I feel this instructor was very upfront and helpful to anyone who came to class (was not required to come but should have) and helped any student with an email question or any sort of help they needed. I have zero complaints, and he was one of my favorite teachers this semester while doing all these categories very well.
- Very nice teacher, he is very knowledgeable on what he is teaching and allows room for learning and doesn't grade harshly.
- N/A
- In this course, the assignments are very spaced out in a very repetitive way. The quizzes and worksheets are due the same days so you learn how to space out the time you need to complete each assignment. I really think that Matt Eaton is a great professor who is very flexible and understanding with his students. I think his lectures are engaging and he has multiple resources that help you prepare for exams and just allow you to succeed in the class.
- Mr. Eaton himself was one of the best teachers I have had in college. Teaches well writes everything out and goes into detail with you about the problem sets.
- The practice exams helped a lot.
- Mr. Eaton is one of the best professors I've ever had. He is so helpful and intentional with every single one of their students. He actually wants to make sure they understand the content rather than just zipping through to get them out of the class.
- I loved this class. The professor explained everything perfectly and always used examples that we students would relate to.
- Everything was simple and connected
- The instructor was great and explained things very well.
- Felt very supported when needed help; also felt I could readily prepare myself for exams and follow along with coursework material well.
- He was a good teacher
- The course was very well structured, with notes posted, if you missed something or needed review, and the homework assignments were helpful to develop understanding of the material.
- For the spots that I put a 4 or 5, it is because I enjoyed the way the class was structured and taught. I enjoyed the way the material was taught to us and then the way that we practiced it with worksheets and quizzes outside of class.
- the real world examples were so relevant to us as students and made everything so much more interesting! also thank you matt for entertaining lectures and sassy comments they brightened everyone's mood
- Professor Eaton clearly explained all the concepts during class lectures and clearly communicated our learning objectives.
- I liked this class a lot. I'm actually going to minor in Economics after this class! He was really easy to communicate with, and always willing to answer any questions. Very approachable!
- I really enjoyed this class. Matt made it very easy to understand the material and give great answers to questions if I had any. I think everyone should want to take this with Matt.
- This class was set up as expected from the first day, everything was planned and communicated exactly as said so.
- I thought Matt did a great job communicating to us and teaching us while also challenging us throughout the course, I felt engaged and like I actually learned about economics over the semester.
- GOAT teacher. I have such an interest in economics after this class. Presents the information very well and makes every topic seem simple.
- I believe the exam practice that is posted helps a lot in understanding what is expected of you on the exam, so I really liked that aspect of this class.
- Engagement of the course
- I feel the course and what was expected of us was straightforward.
- It was a relatively straightforward class. As long as you show up, take notes, and do your work, you can pass pretty easily.
- The course expectations were communicated well. The exams did a good job of reflecting what was being taught in class for the most part and overall allowed me to think more critically in the subject
- N/A
- The instructor was regularly available to assist with any questions or concerns regarding the material and responded quickly to any emails or other notifications.
- This course was well designed and provided me knowledge about microeconomics needed to continue to macroeconomics
